Tyreman v12

Using a web browser on the handheld device allows access to live stock quantities and pricing.

Having identified the customer's requirements the member of staff can process the job and it appears as a held cash sale on the system. When a customer visits the reception the reception staff can retrieve the held order and amend or finalise the invoice when the job is complete without rekeying and duplicating work.

This solution increases professionalism, reduces paperwork and saves time within the depot as customer information is recorded only once.

Key benefits include:

- Real time stock/pricing availability
- Reduced volume of paperwork
- Assists quote retrieval
- Highly portable
- Improves customer service
- Electronic data capture

Tyreman continue to innovate using the latest technology.
